

In airing a mudslinging documentary only days before the election on public airwaves, Sinclair Broadcasting is clearly putting their interests before those of the American people. This is something that should not be happening in a healthy democracy.

What is the FCC for if not to curtail abuses of power such as these?